New York, June 10—The blame for the run on the Trust Company of America during the panic of 1907 was credited today to stories printed in the New York newspapers upon informa-tion obtained from George W. Perkins, according to testimony given at the re-sumption of hearings in the govern-ment suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation under the Sherman anti-trust law. The testi-Sherman anti-trust law. The testi-mony was elicited by Jacob M. Dickin-son, attorney for the government in an attempt to prove that the run on the Trust Company was part of a plan to "hammer" the stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company in the interest of the United States Steel Corpora-tion, which took over the Tennessee company during the panic.

Perkins Gave the Information. It was testified by Oakleigh Thorne, formerly president of the Trust Com-pany of America that the institution held Tennessee Coal and Iron stock held Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral when the run began. He declared that the run was directly due to an article published in the New York Times referring to his institution as a "sore spot" in the financial situation. His testimony was supplemented by that of Osmund Phillips of the Times staff, who said that he secured from Mr. Perkins then a pariner in J. P. Morgan and company and a director in the Steel corporation, the information upon which the article in the Times was based.

Although the subject was not broached in today's conference between Knox and Ferrara, it is generally understood that the Cuban finances must seen figure again in formal negotiations between the two countries. Under the treaty which gayerns their relations Cuba is not permitted to negotiate foreign loans, beyond her ability to meet, and it is for the United States to determine that question. If more funds are needed, it must be shown to Securetary Knox's satisfaction that Cuba can safely carry an additional loan.
